SKYROCKETING CAR TAXES

The Canadian who buys an average priced new automobile today must pay nearly eight times as much in sales and excise taxes to the federal government as he had to pay on the same car in 1939. And he pays more than five times what his American cousin pays to Washington on a similar car. On a representative sedan (figures used in the above graph), the sales tax has increased from $59.70 in 1939 to $142.49 today, an increase of 138 per cent. But the big hike has been in excise taxes, up from $4.81 in 1939 to $356.22 today, a boost of 7,305 per cent. Federation of Automobile Dealer Associations of Canada argue that although cars are now essential (74 per cent are used to get to and from work), they are taxed in the same class as slot machines and juke boxes.

Damp and Tough Grain

The bad harvest weather of 1951 has created a very serious situation because of the large volume of grain which was harvested in a tough or damp condition. Grain that contains over 14.5 per cent moisture is tough, and over 17 per cent moisture is damp.

About the middle of January there were 22 1/2 million bushels of tough grain in store at the Fort William-Port Arthur terminals, and also 14.7 million bushels of damp grain. It will take 18 weeks for the drying facilities in those terminals to recondition that volume of grain. That means if no further supplies of such grain are delivered, it will be June 1 before the grain on hand is dried.

The following table shows the deliveries of straight grade, tough and damp wheat from the 1951 crop up until the middle of January:

	Straight	Tough (bushels)	Damp
Alberta	19,000,000	31,000,000	12,000,000
Saskatchewan	13,000,000	59,000,000	54,000,000
Manitoba	5,000,000	8,300,000	3,800,000
Totals	67,000,000	98,300,000	69,800,000

The Rain Makers

Two hundred weather forecasters met recently in New York at the American meteorological society's four-day annual convention. One of the reports the group heard was concerned with the failure of rain-making efforts in eight Western states.

E. J. Workman, of the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology in Socorro, New Mexico, said that the use of silver iodide in rain-making had failed to increase precipitation, and actually decreased it, in Western tests. Mr. Workman said, "Lots of research" is needed before science can say whether rain-making is practicable or not.

Other meteorologists at the gathering said that the major company which has done extensive experimenting in rain-making plans to discontinue its research next summer. These weather forecasters indicate the company did not expect to renew its contracts with various branches of the government. Officials of the company have declined to comment on the report.

From the tone of these reports, it seems that artificial rain-making has proved to be somewhat of a disappointment. Not long ago, there were those who looked into the future confidently, with the assurance that in a few years aeroplanes could take off and sow the seeds of rain-making capabilities and get the desired amount of rainfall. Evidently, Mother Nature has proved too tough for modern science, however, and the rain-makers seem to be about where they were several hundred years ago.

Space Ships to the Moon

Sometime back, Major Alex. T. Severisky, noted flyer and airplane manufacturer, predicted that atom-powered space ships piloted by Americans would land on the moon within the next fifty years.

Dr. Werner von Braun, German scientist, who helped design and build the V-2 rockets during World War II, is far less optimistic. Dr. Braun is now working for the United States Army on guided missiles and he states that all speculation on nuclear power sources for rockets is still founded on rather shaky ground.

How 2,4-D Was Discovered

The herbicide 2,4-D was discovered by accident. Scientists were looking for a substance which would speed up the fixation of nitrogen in the soil, in order to bring about increased production of food. Actually they discovered a substance which would kill plants, notably those with broad leaves. The discovery was not made known until 1945.

The Bible Today:

In the affairs of this world, men are saved, not by faith, but by the want of it. Benjamin Franklin.

Welcome Wild Life Increase

There has been a marked increase in the small game population in the Edson district, according to reports presented at the recent Liberal convention in Edmonton, especially among wolves, cougars and coyotes. This has resulted in a corresponding decrease in the number of big game. Part of this may also be due to larger numbers of hunters, many of whom it is charged are inexperienced.

The government has been urged to take steps to increase the number of game wardens in that district to more efficiently enforce the game regulations. Other steps recommended by the convention are: better pay for game guardians, payment of bounties on all predators to the guardians and closer co-ordination of the wildlife work of the provincial and federal governments.

Conquering the Cold

Apparently science continues to labor hard in the direction of curing the ordinary head cold.

The latest miracle drugs, such as sulfonamids and antibiotics, are, of course, not effective against virus diseases, such as the common cold, but Dr. Mark Welsh, of Pearl River, New York, says that large laboratories are getting soil samples from all parts of the world to make tests for new molds.

The scientists hope they will find a product that will be as effective against viruses as against bacteria, which will mean conquering infantile paralysis and cancer, as well as the common cold.

To Desocialize the Mines

Australia will desocialize its coal industry—perhaps with American help. Seventy million dollars worth of machinery and equipment will be sold to private colliery owners, and the government hopes that $175 million more will be forthcoming from private investments.

J. L. Knott, Australia's Director of Defence Production Planning, proposed asking American coal companies to take part. He feels that this would stimulate competition and speed development of rich coal fields which otherwise might be developed uneconomically or not at all.

Everyday Living

THE CIGARETTE FIRE HAZARD

Just a few cases in Vancouver alone, of the hundreds attributed to cigarettes, occurring daily in Canada and the world over.

Fire Chief Erratt reports 183 fires in 1944 from cigarettes and matches. The "Greenhill Park" vessel explosion and fire—eight lives lost. Hamilton apartment block, Christmas decorations fire—one dead, ten in hospital.

Destructive fire in West Vancouver from cigarette thrown from bus window.

Vancouver, "Sun" Ben reports 30,000 fires in Canada in one year from cigarettes.

The fearful Barnum Bailey Circus holocaust, at Hartford, 148 lives lost. Cigarette reported to be the cause.

The fire hazard alone should be good reason for banning this menace to life and property. This is a tremendous loss you will admit, but, the greatest loss to our Nation is the loss of efficiency, caused by cigarette smoking, in our young people.

ARE YOU A MAN OR A SMOKESTACK?

In this article in Reader's Digest, August 1943, Mr. F. P. McEvoy, after being liberated from the bondage of the cigarette habit, says: "Today the physical benefits of a tobacco-free life, are undeniable, but the mental lift and the moral glow from conquering an enslaving habit add up to the most exhilarating satisfaction."

Voice of the People

THE BLIND MUSICIAN

Julian Lee, a blind musician and musical arranger, has been refused a visa to enter Canada. The Canadian Press reports that Lee and his wife wish to come here from New Zealand but that union regulations prevent him joining the Canadian Musicians Union or playing commercially here for 12 months and that, rather than risk having Lee face a year of idleness, our immigration authorities have refused him a visa. Perhaps there is more to this incident than is reported in the press but on the known facts it does not seem likely that the majority of Canadians would approve the principle of turning away a prospective new citizen because he may face hardship on arrival here.

Those Canadians who put pressure on the government to exclude immigrants who might compete with them for jobs should recognize that if their kind of thinking had always controlled our government's policies they themselves might not be in Canada today. Most of our forefathers arrived here without visible means of support and survived to contribute to the country's progress and prosperity.

Most Canadians are satisfied to accept as one of the lesser, and normal, hazards of life competition in their jobs. Even those who work to exclude people in their own trades, professions or businesses would have to agree that as Canada's population has grown, Canada's standard of living has climbed, and that for our own continued prosperity we must strive to multiply the number of people living and working in Canada. But too often it is evident that Ottawa is susceptible to the pleas of people who do not want to face possible competition for work from new Canadians. Julian Lee may never get to Canada, but is it not probable that the loss will be ours rather than his?

BIG MAIL VOLUME

Mail volume in the recent Christmas rush once again set up a new record, and so also I might say did the weather. Both these factors imposed a particularly severe strain upon the facilities of the Postal Service of Canada, despite the preparations made to handle the extra anticipated load, and which among other things involved the employment of 27,000 temporary helpers.

Co-operation extended by the public in early mailing of their Christmas gifts and greetings was, however, even more notable than in previous years and it was this fact that enabled the postal workers to cope efficiently with the unexpected difficulties that arose.

While it is true that in some areas the severe weather conditions were responsible for delays in mail delivery, in general throughout the country post offices were able to keep pace with the mail as it came in and most were back onto a normal basis by the day before Christmas.

The purpose of this letter is to thank the public for the assistance given to us, and also to express to the newspapers of Canada our appreciation of their help in making the public aware of the many ways in which their co-operation could be made effective.

At the same time, may I express to you and the members of your staff my very best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year.

W. J. TURNBULL.

COYOTE WAR CONTINUES

Ridiculed as a coward and hunted as a pest, the wily coyote—or "little wolf", as the Indians called him—is perhaps the wisest, sauciest and most cunning of all Alberta wild animals.

For years the coyote has been hunted, poisoned and trapped. Yet he continues to live and thrive near his worst enemy—man.

The animal has gained a reputation of being a killer of sheep, calves and poultry. Yet he is invaluable in keeping down the population of grain-devouring rabbits, mice and gophers, which form 51 per cent of his food supply.

As stock losses mount, farmers attempt control programs. But coyotes have shown an amazing ability to "catch on" to man's most ingenious efforts.

These have included organized ground hunts in which farmers circled a coyote area and closed in for the kill, low-flying airplane swoops by armed professional hunters, and use of coyote hounds, which were turned loose after the coyotes had been chased into near-exhaustion by hunters in trucks.

One of the most unique methods is the use of mothballs, ringed around a herd of sheep. Whether the smell is distasteful to the coyote, or the wily animal fears the new smell as some kind of trap, cannot be fully ascertained, but in many cases it has been highly successful in protecting sheep.

The Alberta government's latest control plan is the use of cyanide guns in areas requesting the materials, supplied free by the agriculture department. The $5 bounty for each coyote killed has been discontinued.

Cyanide guns, 3,300 of them, have been distributed in 33 Alberta areas, appear to be successful but because they are not used on a province-wide basis the overall results still are small.

The cyanide gun is placed in the ground. When the coyote pulls at a baited cap a trigger is released and poison is fired into the animal's mouth. It dies within 100 yards of the gun.

No one knows exactly how many coyotes have been reported. Estimates vary up to 200,000. But more coyotes have been reported this year than any other in the records of the provincial agriculture department.

Compound 1080, or sodium fluoroacetate, is under experiment. It has introduced into Saskatchewan last year when the coyote population was between 100,000 and 500,000. This year the count is estimated to be much lower.

This poison could kill all the coyotes in Alberta if it was used extensively and if the coyotes ate poisoned carcasses indiscriminately. But it likely would kill many birds and useful animals as well. Alberta plans to use it only to a limited extent and even then under strict precautions.

Besides controlling the population of rabbits, mice and gophers, the coyote also figures in the fur industry. A few years ago coyotes were in brisk demand so that the fur could be bleached and dyed for women's coats.

But styles have changed and the demand has dropped off. Today coyotes are in fair demand for trimming and bring between $1 and $3 a pelt.

Best known of the four species in Alberta are prairie and parkland coyotes. About 80 per cent of them are happy to feed on rabbits, mice, gophers and berries. But the other 20 per cent turn outlaw for various reasons.

These renegades are the ones which make the daring night raids on poultry houses and cut down sheep in the fields. In many areas where mice and rabbits are scarce, the annual losses to farmers often mount into thousands of dollars.

Wauneita Society Meets In Colourful Garb

EDMONTON, March 4.—Preparations are underway at the University of Alberta for the Second Annual Wauneita Alumni Tea, which will be held Sunday, March 15, on the University Campus.

All Wauneita Alumni from the surrounding district are invited to attend the Reunion Tea from 3 to 5 p.m. in the new Wauneita Lounge of the Students' Union Building.

The Wauneita Society includes all the female students who have ever attended the University of Alberta, and has been an active campus organization since 1910. Until the erection of the S.U.B., a reunion was impossible due to lack of accommodation. The first tea of this nature was held last year and attended by alumni members throughout Alberta. An even greater attendance was expected this year.

Attractive St. Patrick's Day symbols will decorate the lounge, special guests invited to pour tea are Mrs. Andrew Stewart, wife of the President; Miss M. Patrick; Mrs. M. H. Long, and Miss H. McIntyre. Receiving the guests will be Miss Margaret Sherlock, Honorary President; Miss Joyce Love, President, and Miss Jean Hunter, Vice-President. In charge of arrangements will be the Wauneita executive, who will also assist in the serving.

Let 'Em Hurt, Says Nurse

Hans W. Abraham, 39, a male nurse, was giving patients at St. John's Hospital in Long Island City, N.Y., the needle. It was filled with distilled water instead of pain-relieving demerol, however, and Abraham is charged with injecting the drug he thus obtained into his own arms. He's being held in $1,000 bail on a Federal narcotics charge.

A.T.A. Officers Returned By Acclamation

The president, vice-president and four of eight district representatives have been re-elected by acclamation to the provincial executive of the Alberta Teachers' Association, Eric C. Ansley, A.T.A. general secretary-treasurer, announced recently, following close of nominations. Though their re-election will not be announced officially till the annual general meeting of the A.T.A. to be held in Calgary April 14 to 16, nominations closed February 26 to allow time for balloting by mail in districts where elections will be held.

Miss Marian Gimby of Edmonton will be declared president and Lars Olson of Holden as vice-president for another term.

Also re-elected by acclamation are three district representatives and a fourth. Kenneth Sparks of Sedgewick, a newcomer, also received acclamation. Mr. Sparks replaces Selmer Olsonberg of Mannville, who did not stand for re-election. Re-elected representatives are Nicholas Pookkay of Hairy Hill for northeastern Alberta; W. Roy Eyres of Arrowwood for Calgary and District; and Edwin McKenzie of Medicine Hat, representing southeastern Alberta.

Teachers will vote in the Peace River area where they will decide between Mary Gray of Grande Prairie, the current representative, and W. D. McGrath of Dixonville.

Teachers in Edmonton and district will choose between Frank Edwards, the current representative, and Warren S. Bailey of Stony Plain.

Five candidates will contest the central western seat on the provincial executive. They are James W. Briggs of Stettler; E. J. Ingram, Bentley; Ottar Massing, Wetaskiwin; D. A. Prescott, Red Deer and George Taylor, Rocky Mountain House. Southwestern corner of the province will hold an election between William Jallep of Blairmore and Robert A. Kimmitt of Diamond City. Mr. Kimmitt is the current representative.

Ballots will be counted in Calgary, April 16th.

High School Enrolment Reaches Record Total

Enrolment in Alberta schools is at a record high with a total of 173,969 students attending grades one to 12 this term.

More than 78,000 students are attending schools in larger cities and towns and schools of independent districts not included in a school division. The remainder—totalling 95,889—are enrolled at divisional schools or at schools in rural towns and villages which have entered school divisions by agreement.

Total enrolment in the previous year was 167,790. Enrolment in cities and larger towns increased this year by about 17,500 students while rural school population dropped by more than 9,000.

11,818 CAR ACCIDENTS IN ALBERTA LAST YEAR

Alberta's staggering total of 11,818 car accidents last year is expected to initiate new safety drives to reduce this alarming toll.

The increased number of accidents already has been taken up by the AMA which at its annual meeting in Calgary referred the matter to its executive for a full review of the situation.

Official figures issued by provincial government officials reveal that of the total number of car accident fatalities in Alberta in 1950, 20 were in Edmonton, 10 in Calgary, four in Medicine Hat, two in Lethbridge and the balance of 147 in other parts of the province.

More than 900 persons were injured in motor accidents, of which 467 were in Edmonton, 401 in Calgary, 31 in Lethbridge and 22 in Medicine Hat, making a total of 921. Figures are not available for other parts of the province.

Reported accidents in Alberta also reached the total of 11,818, comprising 4,102 in Edmonton,

2,046 in Calgary, 305 in Lethbridge, 171 in Medicine Hat and 5,194 in other parts of the province.

It is pointed out that the fatal accidents alone are practically three and a half times more than they were some years ago.

While safety advocates recognize that the traffic volume has greatly increased, they feel that the toll is nothing short of shocking and calls for prompt measures to alleviate conditions this year.

Provincial government officials have stated that patrols on main highways, where reckless driving is a constant menace, have been multiplied in the interests of safety.

At the same time, many of the fatal crashes occurred in instances where cars collided with standing trucks, or where other factors were responsible.

The list also includes fatal accidents at level railway crossings despite the repeated warnings of lurking dangers at such intersections.

Carbon monoxide deaths also have been another major cause of highway deaths in Alberta, causing safety authorities to again stress the need of taking all possible precautions to avert such tragedies.

MEDICAL AIRLIFT—Attendants at Seventh-day Adventist mission hospital in Montemorelos, Mexico, remove patient from airplane which brought him from remote mountain village for emergency medical care. The 4-seated Stinson and its missionary pilot bring aid to people in a 300-mile radius of the hospital.

S.D.A. SCHOOL PUPILS GIVE OVER $2,000 TO MISSIONS

Sabbath School members of the Edmonton Seventh-day Adventist church have given foreign mission offerings totalling $2,969.91 during 1951. Lorraine Pfannmiller, secretary of the Sabbath School reported this week.

To this amount will be added a special quarterly mission offering to aid medical and educational work in Latin America.

The local church has a goal of $150,000 of an estimated $315,000 to be collected on that day in the Adventist churches of North America. Approximately $50,000 of the offering is earmarked for construction of a surgical unit at the Montemorelos, Mexico, mission hospital and new buildings for the denomination's training school at Mandeville, Jamaica.

Since the Montemorelos hospital opened 4 years ago, 1,500 patients have been hospitalized and more than 30,000 people have been cared for in the out-patient service, according to reports heard by Sabbath School members here.

With the aid of an airplane piloted by one of the missionaries, the institution serves the remotest villages in a radius of 300 miles. The flying pastor brings emergency cases to the hospital and carries doctors and nurses out to hold clinics in surrounding areas.

The influence of the hospital is being felt all over Mexico through the work of the nurses who have received training there. Ten city clinics are already in operation and the church plans to expand this medical service as fast as trained Mexican doctors and nurses are available.

The hospital is part of a medical missionary program begun 6 years ago in Inter-America. Today the church operates 4 hospitals, 11 clinics, a medical launch and a weekly "Home and Health" radio broadcast in that area. A new 75-bed hospital will open in Puerto Rico next year.

MARLENE STEWART AWARDED OUTSTANDING ATHLETE TROPHY

WINNER OF THE Lou E. Marsi trophy, awarded annually to Canada's outstanding athlete, is Marlene Stewart, 17-year-old golfer from Fonthill, Ont. Marlene won the Canadian Ladies' Open Golf Championship in 1951. With her here are her mother and father and 13-year-old sister, Dolly.

Yes, she, Max's granma, the sweet old thing with the poisoned claws who turns up occasionally on the Rawhide Show, broadcast Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 5:40 p.m. on CBW, 6:00 p.m. on CBK-CBX. Of course, she does look a bit like CBC staff announcer Max Ferguson, but Rawhide, who says he's plagued with the same resemblance, claims it's just an optical illusion. The picture was taken on the occasion of Gran's first appearance before a CBC microphone with a clear conscience. "I slaved for weeks on a cold street corner selling Christmas cards so I could buy my radio license and hold my head up," she explains.

LOVELY KNITTED garments find their place in everyone's wardrobe and can be worn everywhere. The type or style of your woollens is determined by your choice of yarn according to the weight, color and design. For instance, garments made from thick heavy yarns are suitable for sports or heavy duty wear while delicate, light weight wool is best for dressy sweaters, shawls, stoles and baby's wear. The fashion story on knitted clothing is not new, but never before in all its history have hand knitted garments been higher style than they are today. We see stunning sweaters, dresses and coats (long and short) in the fashion magazines and observe, on the whole, the patterns are of good simple design.

Wool for Fashion

Canadian women have long been aware of the importance of hand knitted garments from a style as well as a practical point of view. We can also be proud to know our own Canadian designers are leaders in the wool-fashion world providing smart models to be copied abroad. Well-dressed men, women and children look to knitted articles as a most necessary part of their wardrobes, and thrifty, style-conscious mothers and daughters are careful to have one or more knitting projects on hand at all times to keep their wardrobes up to date . . . at the same time pursue the pleasure of their favorite hobby.

Wool for Evening

For evening wear, you'll be delighted with the attractive sweater pictured above. It is perfect to wear at home and very useful if you are planning a southern cruise. The delicate blouse is made from only 3 ozs. of 2 ply wool in a pretty color. If you wish to make the LOW NECKED EVENING SWEATER, a leaflet is available in three sizes. Just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper requesting Leaflet No. CW-29.

SANTA'S NEWEST HELPER: Santa Claus, that white whiskered gentleman from the North Pole, had a brand new helper this last Christmas. More than one million of Santa's gifts and other Yuletide packages moved through the Canadian Pacific Express Company's newly-opened $2,000,000 depot at Montreal before Dec. 25, en route to destinations across Canada. Upper left: Santa gives part of the 500-foot push-button operated electric belt conveyor system in the new building a tryout. Lower centre: Some idea of the flow of parcels which the new depot can handle is shown here. With the new facilities which include inter-communication billing units; teletype circuits and enlarged truck loading and unloading space the depot can handle well over 75,000 parcels daily. Upper right: Trucks line up in front of the new building to start out on the day's rounds delivering and picking up shipments to and from points across the country. These trucks travel about 70,000 miles each month providing cartage service for the depot.

Broomball, Bingo To Be Held To Raise Funds

ST. ALBERT—At their last regular Tuesday meeting, the St. Albert Lions enthusiastically planned a Sunday function to raise funds for deserving causes within the community. The fun will begin at 3:00 p.m. Sunday, March 16, with a broomball game between Morinville and St. Albert Lions. At 6:30 p.m. a bingo will be held in the Community Hall, where lunch will be served throughout the evening.

Come one, come all to support this affair! You'll get your money's worth of fun and help a valuable cause at the same time. The St. Albert Lions have already given $100 to the skating rink, and funds raised Sunday will come back to the community in a similar manner.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa:

I am a young girl and considered attractive to young men and older men too.

I have been in love with an attractive young man for almost three years. When we first fell in love, we were in school but now we have graduated. We were engaged about four months but have broken the engagement. We have been together since but he doesn't want to settle down even to plan our life together, yet he says he loves me only and plans to marry me and no one else.

He was wonderful when we were first in love, he had beautiful ideals, high morals, was ambitious but now he has changed so completely. I've tried a dozen times to show him how wrong he is in changing — going to church now is out of the question; he never goes and his every day talk is full of swearing and vulgar language.

What I want to know is how long must I cling to those days when he was the kind of man I want for my husband and the father of my children? I love him but I wonder if it is wise. Are my love and prayers strong enough to fight his worldly way of life and, raise his standard of living?

BROKENHEARTED.

Answer:

I think you are waging a losing fight and throwing away some of your best years on a boy who is not worthy of your love. Men are much easier to reform before they are married than they are afterwards and if you haven't the same standards now and are not congenial, your chances for happiness would not be any better after marriage.

However, you say that the boy does not want to settle down or even plan your life together. This indicates that he is not sure that he is in love with you. Certainly, someone who is in love with a girl would be happy to plan their life together, even though he was unable to support a wife at present.

Stop living in the past with a personality that has changed and make new friends.

LOUISA.

Music Hath Charm

TORONTO, ONT. — (BUP) —

Officials of the new branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia expect the playing of "functional music" to improve efficiency and relieve employees' tension and fatigue.

Bank officials said the music would be broadcast through some 300 loudspeakers in the freight floors of the new skyscraper reserved by the bank for its own use.

The music is played 22 minutes of each hour and the mood of the music is varied to suit the expected temperament of employees at different hours.

$1 for EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Editor will pay $1.00 for every item published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life". Address "Embarrassing Moments", P.O. Box 4368, South Edmonton.

As a young girl I worked at housework, and one day my mistress told me to empty the waste paper basket and mail the letters she had written. I threw the contents of the basket into the incinerator and, returning to the house, looked for the letters, but couldn't find them. I had burned them with the trash. The lady of the house said not to worry, she could write the letters over again, but I was certainly embarrassed! North Edmonton. M.M.

Driving to a show, I noticed an attractive young lady walking in the same direction. I picked her up, and treated her to the show, sitting beside her. Then, like a real gentleman, drove her home and asked her for another "date". She refused with "No, thank you, I'm married." I guess we were both embarrassed.

Off Key

The song writer was a guest at a party. He loaded himself with food and drink, and then began annoying the piano keys. When he finished the host walked up to him.

"While you were playing," smiled the host, "I made a bet with a friend. What was the name of the song you just played?"

The song writer smiled proudly. "You've never heard it before," he boasted. "It's one of my new compositions."

The host nodded. "Then I win my bet," he said, happily. "My friend insisted the piano was out of tune!"

Her Only Hope

As often happens when a woman is approaching 40, Miss Robinson was "about 28," and not without hope. Even her favorite fortune-teller could not see a suitor in the offing, but was anxious to keep a customer.

"Ha!" she said, her eyes on the crystal. "I see a tall man. He's going to propose to you."

"Dark?" fluttered the excited client.

"Yes," said the fortune-teller. "Dark. It will have to be."

Fisherman's Optimism

Two men were fishing in Haynes Creek down in Georgia. They became separated and John hadn't caught any. Seeing Tom in a boat later on, he called: "How many have you caught, Tom?"

"When I catch this 'un an' two mo' I'll have three," said Tom.

Is Your Seed Free of Smut?

During the winter of 1950-51, the Line Elevators Farm Service tested 20,473 farmers' seed samples of wheat, oats and barley for the presence of surface-borne smut. A summary of the results is presented here.

Smut Situation Serious. Out of a total of 11,993 wheat samples tested, 46% was found to be contaminated with smutting smut (bunt), with 1% of the samples actually containing smut balls. Smut spores (eggs) were found to be present on no less than 74% of the 5,331 oat samples tested. Of these, 6% was carrying smut balls. The results with 3,149 farm samples of barley seed showed that 89% of them was contaminated with surface-borne smut. And, believe it or not, smut balls or pieces of smut balls were actually found in 24% of the barley samples.

So far this winter we have tested over 7,000 farmers' seed-grain samples for smut. And here is the picture. Over 40% of the farm seed stocks of wheat and more than 80% of those of barley and oats from the 1951 crop was found to be contaminated with smut.

More Treatment Needed. What does this serious smut situation mean? It simply means that many farmers are either not treating properly, or not treating their seed-grain at all for smut control. This neglect is costing Western Canada hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. This is a needless loss. It can be prevented.

Seldom is it possible to make a recommendation to farmers that has no "ifs" and "buts" attached to it. In advising farmers to treat their seed-grain for smut, however, we are confident that here is one case at least where all the "ifs" and "buts" can be ignored. Treat your seed this spring. Proper seed treatment for smut control is simple, inexpensive and effective. It is first-class, low-cost crop insurance. The recommended seed treatments for small grain crops will be discussed in our next article.

Funds Appeal To Aid In Fighting Cancer

Contributions to the Cancer Crusade next month will be used to "lift the shadows which hide cancer's causes and cures," G. R. A. Rice, President of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Cancer Society, said in Edmonton this week.

He disclosed that more than $3,000,000 in contributed funds has been expended on research projects since the Canadian Cancer Society initiated its vast programme five years ago.

"Thousands of lives will be saved by the Canadian Cancer research programme this year," Mr. Rice declared. "Most of them would have died of the disease just a few years ago. They are being saved by the products of recent research, new types of surgery and new ways of delivering heavy doses of x-rays and radium."

"New chemicals are being rushed from laboratory tests on tissue cultures and animals to the clinic. Many of them are showing that they can kill the pain of cancer and put the patient back on his feet."

"We have learned down through the centuries that there can be no sure thing in research, against cancer or for any other cause. I think, however, that there can be little doubt from the results so far achieved that research eventually will cut cancer down to a controllable medical problem."

Two of our grandsons, ages six and three were having a verbal battle. The elder, searching for a withering remark, sneered: "You are just an old . . . manure wagon!" Instantly the tiny lad shot back: "You're what's in it!"

"Flags flown at half mast" was more than she could understand, so she asked her mother, "If the flags are only half now after the King has died, would they be all gone if the new Queen died?"

Ninth Annual Meeting . . .

explained that three to nine months was the age at which heifers should be vaccinated. He stated that notices were in the local papers as to when vaccination would be done and farmers must apply to have the veterinary call at their farms. After considerable discussion regarding this disease which causes undulant fever in humans, a suggestion was made that this municipality should have vaccination for Bangs disease made compulsory.

Motion No. 10

Moved by W. G. Bockock that the Agricultural Service Board take steps to have this municipality made a Bangs-free district: seconded by P. Gregorwich. Carried.

Declaration by Returning Officer

Mr. Harold Clark, returning officer, now declared it was 4:00 p.m. and time for nominations to be received had expired. Nominations for Division 2 was for Stanley Walker and as only the one nomination was received, Mr. Stanley Walker was declared elected by acclamation by Mr. Clark. Mr. Walker was now called upon to address the meeting. He thanked the ratepayers for their support and he stated that he would endeavour to give fair and just treatment to the many problems which confront a councillor.

Two nominations were received for Division 5, from J. G. Dusseault and Emmanuel Racine. Mr. Clark stated that an election would be held four weeks from date, which would be on March 15, 1952. Polls would be at Verina farm, Vimy; Pleasantville Hall, and at Wm. Price's farm.

Mr. Racine was called on to address the meeting. He thanked those who nominated him and if elected would do his best as councillor for Division 5.

Mr. J. G. Dusseault now spoke to the meeting. He thanked the ratepayers for coming out in such large numbers, as interest shown in the administration of affairs of the municipality was of valuable assistance to the councillors. He stated that this new hall at Morinville is a great asset, not only to the town of Morinville but to all the district. After twenty-two years as councillor, he admitted that mistakes had been made not only in his division but in the municipality as a whole, but with careful thought and administration, things were running better than in the past. Mr. Dusseault thanked the ratepayers for their support in the past and if re-elected, would continue to give service in Division 5, and what assistance possible in the municipality.

Weeds in Forage Seed

Complaint regarding weed seeds in forage crop seed was voiced. Mr. Clark advised that under the "Seeds Act" which is under the jurisdiction of the federal government, a certain percentage of weed seeds is allowed in forage seed. Mr. Fontaine spoke on this subject and stated that possibly the act should be tightened up as a number of farmers had complained of difficulty in obtaining pure seed, and many farmers had new seeds introduced on their farms in this manner.

Resolution re Weed Seeds in Forage Seed

"Resolved, that we, the ratepayers at the annual municipal meeting of the M. D. of Morinville, No. 91, go on record as being in favor of having the maximum amount of noxious weed seeds in forage seed as allowed in the 'Seeds Act' be reduced. The federal department of agriculture to be notified accordingly." Moved by Fred Brown and seconded by Walter Frank. Carried.

Complaint re Noxious Weeds

The meeting was advised that owners of land were responsible for control of noxious weeds on their property regardless of whether the land was cultivated or not.

Pure Bred Sire Area

Considerable discussion took place on the Pure Bred Sire Area. Mr. Clark explained that about one-hundred signatures are yet required to obtain permission to have this municipality a pure bred sire area and the service board intends to have this completed.

Motion No. 11

Moved by Angus McGillis that before the pure bred sire area be adopted in this district that each person signing the petition assure the council that they own or have an interest in a pure bred sire before any steps be taken to have the said pure bred sire area enforced: seconded by Walter Frank. Motion lost.

Motion No. 12

Moved by M. Saffin and seconded by R. Johnson that the Agricultural Service Board report be adopted as read. Carried.

Education

The chairman now called on Mr. Paul Chauvet, divisional school trustee, to give a report on the Sturgeon School Division.

Mr. Chauvet presented costs of operation for the past year in which a deficit of $23,000 was encountered. Teachers' salaries were $15,000 higher than in the previous year, he stated. The policy of having two annual meetings in the district instead of one, was explained by Mr. Chauvet. An increase in the mill rate is expected in the new requisition, to be necessary. About 25 per-cent of the costs of education are covered by grants. The chairman thanked Mr. Chauvet for his address.

Public Works

Question re graveling program: Mr. Dusseault explained plans for graveling will be made after the elections at the regular council meeting.

Motion No. 13

Moved by E. Rousseau that we now adjourn the meeting at 5:30 o'clock p.m.
